Roll of Honour

CELTIC INTERNATIONAL GAMES

1976 – 2018

The annual Celtic Games contested now by Under 16 and Under 18 teams from Ireland, Scotland and Wales have undergone significant changes from the first event held in Aberdeen on the 14th August 1976. The first Junior International between the North of Ireland and Scotland took place in 1969 at Ormeau Park in Belfast and this link continued for several years. In 1975 a team from the North of Ireland travelled the long coach journey to Haverford West in South West Wales. Following this match discussions took place between Maeve Kyle and Barbara Elgie of Wales and with the support of Scotland a proposal was made to the British Athletics Board (BAAB) to hold a Celtic Match the following year. The BAAB agreed and the North of Ireland WAAA were asked to invite Bord Lúthchleas Ógánach na hÉireann to take part. Scotland agreed to host the first event with subsequent meetings to follow a four year cycle of Scotland, Wales, Ireland and the North of Ireland. The first meeting in Ireland taking place at the UCD Grounds at Belfield on August 6th 1978.

For the first 16 years the competition comprised of girls only teams in the Under 13, Under 15 and Under 17 age groups. The first winner in Aberdeen was Jacqueline Gibbons in the 60 metres Hurdles representing the North of Ireland. Jackie subsequently became a teacher in Thornhill College in Derry a school which produced many athletics champions. That same day saw the international debut of many future outstanding athletes some of whom went on to compete at the highest level of the Commonwealth and Olympic Games. For the North of Ireland Janet Boyle and Sharon McPeake both medaled at the Commonwealth Games while Judith Rodgers was a Commonwealth Games 100m Hurdles finalist and Angela McCullagh went to the World Cross Country Championships. BLOE featured the likes of Caroline O'Shea, Marita Walton and Patricia Amond. A young Linsey McDonald finished last for Scotland in the U13 100 metres and would go on to represent Great Britain in the Moscow Olympics four years later. For Wales Carmen Smart would progress to represent the Principality at three Commonwealth Games while a certain Kirsty McDermott ran 2:33 for 800 metres to win the Under the Under 15 event and as Kirsty Wade won the Commonwealth title in Edinburgh in 1986 having a year earlier run 1:57.42 at the Mary Peters Track in Belfast, still the second fastest ever by a British athlete.

The Games have continued to act as a first rung on the ladder for a host of future Senior International athletes from all Nations including the great Sonia O'Sullivan. The format of the Games changed in 1992 with the Under 13 Girls events being dropped and being replaced by Under 15 and Under 17 Boys. This was followed in 2006 by a change in Age Groups to Under 16 and Under 18 with the younger age group having a limited number of events. In 2012 the most recent change took place with the North of Ireland, which through Maeve Kyle had inaugurated the Games, no longer taking part as a team but with their athletes eligible to represent Athletics Ireland.

Winning Teams

For each event at the Celtic Games scoring was as follows: 1st, 5 pts; 2nd, 3pts; 3rd, 2 pts and 4th, 1 pt. The points scored for each event by the U13/U15/U17 girls teams from 1976 through 1991 were totalled to determine the girls overall winning team. With the introduction of boys into the Celtic Games in 1992, the overall winners of the girls and boys competitions were determined by adding the scores of the U15/U17 teams (1992 through 2005) and U16/U18 teams (2006 through 2018). With the introduction of the mixed gender relay for U16 competitions the points for this event were halved between the U16 Girls and U16 Boys teams (1st, 2.5 pts; 2nd, 1.5 pts; 3rd 1 pt; 4th, 0.5 pt). The Caithness Trophy, a beautiful piece of Caithness crystal glassware, was introduced in 1995 to be awarded to the overall team with the highest combined score from the girls and boys competitions.
